

1965 EMERSONIAN

EMERSON COLLEGE
130 BEACON STREET
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Dear Emersonians:

The Class of 1965 has earned the affection and esteem of both faculty and administration. You have a fine record of campus leadership in these past four years of growth and development. You will undoubtedly make an equally fine record as an alumni class with a real concern for the continued progress of your College.

We expect to be proud of your response to the call for continued individual growth and development demanded by our age. We are confident that your services will always be in demand. Our society grows ever more dependent upon teamwork to use the overwhelming flow of new knowledge. This brings more and more need for those whose education has at once increased their capacity to learn and their capacity to communicate.

My wish for you is that you may ever be striving for an achievable goal. This is the road to the happiness that accompanies effective use of our capacity for action, thought and feeling. May you never be content with only those things you may have without effort. May you never try short cuts which sacrifice integrity to avoid effort. May you waste little time dreaming of things completely beyond your reach. May you ever be striving for those worthwhile things you can reach if you will stretch. It is by such stretching that we grow in mind and spirit and in our standing with our fellow men.

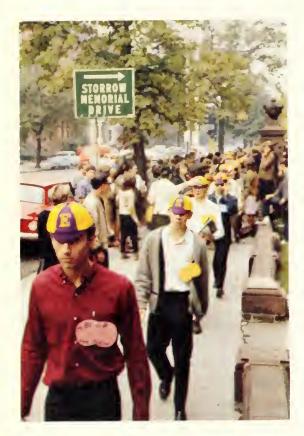

We are sorry to see you go. We will miss you. But we will look forward to your return with a record of achievement that will be a source of pride and inspiration to Emerson classes yet to come.

Sincerely yours,

Justus McKinley,

President

DEDICATION

She entered Emerson as a student, Knowing the feelings we know now. She returned to Emerson as a teacher, And remembered them.

Steeped in the tradition and ideals of our college,
She has passed them on to her students.
The master genius of Shakespeare,
Has been handed from father to daughter,
From daughter to us.

She has carried Emerson outside of itself, Making others aware of its standards, Its dedication, Its very meaning.

For this, we, the Class of 1965, Her friends and admirers, Dedicate this year's EMERSONIAN to . . .

According to the constitution, "The purpose of this club shall be to promote recreational and competitive sailing." Sailing, racing, and rowing are among the various activities available to the student through membership.

In 1964, Emerson College Sailing Club became an associate member of the New England Inter-collegiate Sailing Association (N.E.I.S.A.), and a member of the New England Women's Inter-collegiate Sailing Association (N.E.W.I.S.A.).

GIRLS' ATHLETIC LEAGUE

Led by President Sue Solomon, advisor Miss MacPherson, and newly engaged coach, Mr. Ridini, G.A.L. has enjoyed a very successful year. The new program of swimming and physical fitness every Tuesday evening at the YWCA of Cambridge was received with a great deal of interest and enthusiasm by the female students of Emerson and this enthusiasm was carried over into the very active softball program in the spring.

This year was the most active in G.A.L.'s history and has brought the aims and goals of the organization much closer to realization. G.A.L.'s main aim has been to help build and publicize the Double Decade Gym Fund and the organization looks forward to another year of continued success.

Since the first, four years have passed
And we have known both hope
And fear.
But we have found that Hammer and forged a Key

Strong and sure and ours.

Now we leave this place in which So much has changed what once We were.

Yet we can never travel nor go so far As to lose its memory.

For once we searched for a Golden Hammer And found it here within These Halls. We go with the Key that it has made To open the Door of Life.
